

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 1, 1880.

Four prisoners escaped from jail at Litchfield one day last week.

It is pretty generally settled that Gen. Ben. Harrison will be chosen U. S. Senator by the Indiana Legislature this winter.

A treaty has been signed with China whereby the United States is given entire control of the importation of Chinese to this country.

Candidates for the offices to be filled next August are announcing themselves in the Blue Grass region. They think the early bird will catch the worm.

A well written editorial the Messenger and Examiner urges Congress to appropriate $50,000 for the erection of Federal buildings in Owensboro. We trust it will be done.

The Henderson Reporter says five loads of the new crop of tobacco have been received in that market and were bought by W. K. Ayer for E. R. Newcomb at 6 cents per pound, round.

JERETHA H. HARGARD, one of our most prosperous young farmers, was married last night to Miss Mollie Gay at the residence of the bride's father, Capt. Watt M. Gay near North Middletown. Clark County Democrat.

It is astonishing that a Gay young lady should become so anxious to marry as to accept a Haggard husband. But alas! "rich" is the weakness of the flesh.

PROF. J. N. PAYNE, Principal of the Hawesville, Ky., Public Schools, has been elected Principal of the Madison High School, and will assume the position on the first Monday in January.

The only highwaymen in Kentucky as far as heard from are the Hunt brothers, residing near the McHenry coal mines, in Ohio county. One has been arrested and the other has fled the country. They will rob no more stage coaches in Kentucky. Lexington Press.

A COURT of the Independent Order of Foresters was organized in Greenview last week with Col. W. H. Vost as President, J. W. Church Vice-President, Lewis Reno Secretary, and J. D. Yonts Treasurer.

HANCOCK will get no vote from Indiana as reported. The State Returning Board found that Parker, the Republican elector was beaten by reason of the failure of clerks to properly certify the vote and these clerks have been allowed to correct their errors.

MR. EMMET G. LOGAN has resigned his position on the Post and accepted the position of managing editor of the Courier-Journal. He is one of the ablest journalists in Kentucky, and his addition to the Courier-Journal staff will make that excellent paper still more appreciable.

MR. J. LEWIS KNIGHT, of Louisville, and Miss Effie Chesnut, of Frankfort, were married in the latter city on Tuesday last week. In this locality we generally go chestnut hunting in the Autumn days, but in this case we have no doubt but the Chesnut was found by Knight.

The news gets better. Hon. Sam'l J. Randall says the next House will stand 147 Republicans, 144 Democrats and 2 Greenbackers, who will act with the Democrats, thus leaving the Republicans only one majority. If Turner of Ky. had defeated White it would be one the other way.

THAT crusty old bachelor editor of the Owensboro Messenger & Examiner inserts the following in his paper: "Having learned that an Ohio court has decided that married women do not own the clothes they wear. Simpkins, who knows whereof he speaks, says the judge is right—they mostly wear the breeches belonging to their husbands."

ALTHOUGH we have no attorney, the Commonwealth is as able and successfully represented as in days of yore. Mr. Noc is winning golden opinions as prosecuting attorney, and is coming fully up to the standard claimed for him by his ardent friends and warm supporters last summer.

JUDGE L. P. LITTLE, our new Circuit Judge, is giving entire satisfaction. We have heard none but favorable criticisms passed upon his conduct here as a judge so far. Those who were croaking last summer about his incapacity are taking it all back now and compliment him as being one of the ablest judges that ever presided over the court here.

COULD not the use of the letter "C" be curtailed to great advantage? When the soft sound of "C" is needed use "S" and when the hard sound is required use "K." Orthography would thus be wonderfully simplified and more easily learned. "C" need not be used except when it precedes or follows "H." Let us hear from some of our professors upon this subject.

POSTMASTER-GENERAL MAYNARD has sent an order to the Postmaster at Cincinnati to refuse the payment of money orders and refuse to deliver registered letters addressed to Byron H. Robb and other proprietors of the "Singapore Tobacco Company," "American and European Street Service Company," "The Incino Company," "The Monitor Lamp Company," and other enterprises that are extensively advertised.

AN ill-tempered, hard hearted, illiberal old bachelor who has never proven himself worthy of the love of a pure, good woman gets off the following in the Evansville Courier: "There's a bachelor's hall around the corner. Three horrid men live there and not a silver-tongued female in the castle. The loneliness of that mansion can perhaps be imagined. There are none of those little incidents transpiring that go to make up the aerie of domestic felicity. No stove-his sizzling around, no fatuous waffles, no delectable domestic hair curling, no pieces of flesh nor tufts of hair clinging to the rolling pin. It's too bad."

The Breckinridge News says that Thomas Hall, of that county, went to Louisville recently and sold his hogs, and on his return home on the packet he was robbed of $973.

OUR friend and former county man, L. P. Raley, has accepted a position in the General Office of the Winona & St. Peter Railway Company at Winona, Minn. His promotion has been rapid and shows what pluck and energy will do.

THE many friends of James D. Bonner in this vicinity will be glad to learn of his successful race for Clerk of the County Court of Comanche county, Tex. This is his third race and he has been successful each time, this time by a larger majority than ever before. He is a popular young man and makes an excellent clerk and his continued success is merited.

WE call the attention of our readers to the communication of L. W. Gates, of Calhoun, to the Evansville Courier, which appears on the first page of this issue. It is ably written and is well worth a careful perusal. The writer ably grapples with a subject fraught with interest to every man in the South and West, and every paper in these sections ought to republish this able document.

It is a significant evidence of the "mutability of human affairs" that in 1865 Secretary Stanton complimented Gen. Hancock for having captured "nearly" all the forces of the guerrilla Mosby and had offered a reward of $2,000 for the capture of Mosby himself. Now Mosby is a "dill" Republican official, while Hancock is denounced as a traitor and a rebel, and everything else that is unpatriotic, by the same party that could not too much praise him for his course in that case. —Ee.

MEASUREMENT, just made by I. W. Sutherland, gave further evidence of the championship of Judge Triplett in the production of corn. On four acres planted in a new variety called the "Profit" he raised 87 bushels to the acre. The corn is of a fine, flinty character, and many of the stalks produced from two to seven ears each. The yield of sorghum secured by the judge is something remarkable also. On seven-eighths of an acre he made 169 gallons of fine, clear, thick, delightful syrup. —Owensboro Messenger.

The Vote of the Country.

The Chicago Tribune, Nov. 27, furnishes the following statement of the vote taken from the official returns from every State in the Union of the late Presidential election:

Garfield.....	4,439,415
Hancock.....	4,436,014
Weaver.....	305,729
Dow.....	9,644
Scattering.....	1,738
Total.....	9,182,505
Garfield's plurality.....	3,401

In 1876 Tilden received 4,284,757, and Hayes 4,033,950. Hancock gets 151,257 more vote than Tilden did. Garfield gets 405,465 more than Hayes did.

The majority against Garfield is 313,765.

The vote between Garfield and Hancock is closer than was ever known between two Presidential candidates representing the two leading parties of the country.

Comet First Discovered Here.

The comet that has attracted astronomers far and near during the past autumn, was first discovered in Hartford, Ky., by Mr. John M. Klein on the 29th of August. He called the attention of some of our citizens to it at the time and made the following report of it, which was published in the Courier-Journal of September 5th:

The comet of 1783 is in sight. I first saw it August 29th—last week. I don't know if you can see it in Louisville or not, as we are near two degrees closer. Look for it after dark southeast of the Milky Way; it looks like the fire of a large volcano sending forth fire, steam and smoke. All these clouds you see are from its mighty tail. It is strange to me why some of our astronomers don't say something about it. I have seen in the paper that the present heat in the southwest is from the sun, but I am satisfied it is the comet, as it is in the south.

Let's all look for it the first clear night we have.

Thanksgiving Dinner at Alexander's Hotel, Louisville, Ky.

The Courier-Journal says: "The usual big dinner was spread at Alexander's Hotel, where a large number of invited guests were in attendance. Among those present were five couples of newly-married people, besides many particular friends of the estimable lady of the house. The dinner was fit for a prince and all that an epicure could crave, as no one will doubt who is acquainted with Col. Joe's manner of doing the handsomest when occasion demands. His spacious dining-room, arrayed in all its appointments, attested his popularity and success."

The Commercial says: "The tables at this favorite hostelry fairly groined with the kind of a Thanksgiving dinner that only Col. Joe Alexander knows how to prepare. The bill of fare encompassed everything that the cunning of the caterer could devise. The tables were handsomely dressed, the silver was polished until it shone again, and the linen was as white as the Thanksgiving snow that covered the ground on outside. The dinner hour was from 1 until 5 o'clock, and during that time no less than 500 guests partook of the good things that were there. Mr. and Mrs. Alexander had a large number of their intimate friends with them, and they were 'never so happy before.'"

Gen. George B. Crittenden Dead.

Gen. George B. Crittenden died at the residence of his sister, Mrs. C. C. Young, in Danville, Ky., on Friday last. A special to the Courier-Journal has the following to say of him: "The deceased was a son of the late Hon. John J. Crittenden" and was born in Russellville, Ky., on the 20th of March, 1811. He received a liberal education, after which he entered the Military Academy at West Point, where he graduated with honor. Gen. Crittenden spent many years of his life in the United States army and was a volunteer in the Texas war of independence, and was taken prisoner at the battle of Mier and marched on foot to the City of Mexico. Through the exertions of Mr. Webster and Gen. Wadly Thompson, then our Minister to Mexico, he was released. He afterward took part in the war between the United States and Mexico, and was the army when it entered the capital of the latter country. When the late war broke out he was with his regiment in New Mexico, holding the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. His sympathies were from the first with the Union, and he resigned and returned to Kentucky, where he remained but a short time and then entered the Confederate service. He was made a Brigadier General, and remained in the army until the close of the war.

Gen. Crittenden was a man of unsullied honor, remarkable for his integrity, his modesty and unflinching adherence to truth. His remains will be taken to Frankfort on Monday for burial.

The Stage Robbery.

The Standard Herald takes serious offense at a statement that appeared in the Hartford with reference to the recent arrest of supposed stage robbers in Ohio county. The statement complained of is that it was suspected that Bunker, the deputy sheriff, arrested Outfit, the detective, to prevent him from obtaining the reward for the arrest of Hunt. That this suspicion existed is certain. Whether it was just or not, we do not know. The HERALD enters into an argument to prove that Bunker acted in good faith and that Outfit would never have arrested Hunt. How this may be we have no means of knowing with certainty, and do not care to argue the probabilities. When the question of paying the reward comes up, we suppose the value of the respective services of the detective and the officer will have to be determined. As we know neither of them, and are attorneys for neither, we feel no interest in the matter further than a desire that the parties may be compensated in proportion to their merits. We take pleasure however, in saying for Mr. Bunker that his home paper describes him as a most deserving officer. —Lexington Standard.

He's Been Thar.

A writer says every man should, if he desires to be happy and healthy, take a clean conscience to bed every night. That's very explicit, so far as it goes, but isn't explicit enough. The clean conscience, in this kind of weather, ought to be wrapped up in a hundred or so pounds of warm-footed femininity. Then it is the angels hover around with dreams of lavender cakes and tree molasses, and a man feels like a barrel of new Orleans sugar. —Glasgow Times.

A Good Sell.

Kenward Philip's "confession," which the Associated Press dispatches heralded with great flourish, turns out to be simply a humorous "confession" that he knows nothing at all about the Money letter. The fact is the prosecution has entirely broken down and the press are beginning to return to their first impression that the letter was written by Garfield himself. He himself has never denied the authorship under oath, and his simple assertion that the letter was a forgery, is not sufficient. It is more than probable that Messrs. Hewitt and Randall were right when they declared the letter to be in Garfield's handwriting. —Evansville Courier.

The East and North is solid because our protective tariff protects their manufacturing interests while the productive interest of the West and South is taxed to pay them a premium on their protection. If the South and West would run their own manufactures and rely on their own resources, the East would not long remain so literally solid. Touch their pockets and their solidity vanishes into thin air. —Meade County Record.

Some of the leading Democratic papers are after Mr. Watterson for inserting the tariff plank in the Cincinnati platform, and claiming that he helped to defeat the Democratic ticket. We do not believe the American people are all numbskulls or idiots, and the fault of the Democracy was in not making the tariff question the issue of the campaign. Opposition to a protective tariff is a Democratic doctrine and as old as the party itself. A full discussion and explanation of the "free trade" doctrine ought to, and we believe will eventually, win all laboring men to the Democratic party. —Elkton Register.

A few days ago John Vandagriff, of Ohio county, went to Aberdeen, in the morning, after his "ancient and honorable" custom, entered the grocery of George Enis and began making a speech. His gesticulation used a kettle of boiling water upon one John Mutcheknaus, who retailed by giving Vandagriff a sound thrashing. —Kentucky News in Courier-Journal.

The Kentucky News man of the Courier-Journal, who parts his name like a dandy parts his hair—in the middle—is slightly mistaken. There is no such an orator as John Vandagriff in Ohio county; there is no such a man as George Enis selling groceries in Ohio county; there is no man in Ohio county with such a jaw-breaking name as Mutcheknaus, and there is no town, city, village, hamlet, post-office or cross-roads place in Ohio county called Aberdeen. With these few exceptions the item, so far as we know, may be correct.

To the doctrine of protection the Republicans now propose to add Know-Nothingism; they by a tariff shut out foreign products and now seek an effective way of shutting out foreign labor. This is logical, at least. It is impossible to see why, if the manufacturer is to be protected, the laborer is to remain unprotected. One excuse given for our present monstrous system of tariff is that it prevents our laborers from sinking to the level of the "pauper" labor of Europe. The fact is, the pauper labor of Europe sends its thousands of representatives to this country every week to break down the labor market and bring it to the European level. The attempt to protect labor as capital is protected, to keep the foreigner out as now we keep out foreign products, will show the injustice of present tariff. It is, in fact, a reductio ad absurdum. The Democracy holds to that principle of liberty which allows men to go and come as they please and which at the same time allows them to trade unmolested in England, Germany and South America. This is the way to build up the country or to allow the country to build up itself. —Courier-Journal.

THE POLITICAL SITUATION.

Action of a Meeting of Indiana Editors on the Future Policy of the Democratic Party.

At a meeting of the Indiana Editors, held at Indianapolis, on Tuesday, November 27, 1880, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That the Democratic Party in Indiana should maintain its position in regard to the tariff, and should not be swayed by the passions of the moment.

Resolved, That the Democratic Party in Indiana should maintain its position in regard to the tariff, and should not be swayed by the passions of the moment.

T. C. Carson, T. J. Beach, Elwood Neal, G. A. Carson, W. A. Helm, J. T. Moore, Wm. Vaid and A. A. Howland have organized themselves into a joint stock company for the purpose of opening and permanently maintaining a high school in Morgantown. They have engaged the services of Prof. W. J. Finley, D. D., and propose to offer the best school for the money in the Green River country. The most advanced scholars can attend a session of 20 weeks at a total cost of $55.00.

When Plaided, Greenback candidate carried Maine Government bonds went down 2 per cent, but not below par in New York, and wheat went up 2 cents per bushel in Chicago. We take it that we, who raise wheat and pay bonds, lose nothing by this. When Garfield advanced largely, but wheat and farm products did not. Will some man explain how the gentlemen who raise wheat and pay bonds made anything by this.

zealous Christian since her attachment to the church, and it seems that her tongue is ever ready to speak the law of kindness.

Death is yet abroad in the land. A son of Mr. H. T. Ford, near Fordsville, fell asleep in death last Sunday night. Young Mr. Ford had not yet reached manhood. We extend to Mr. Ford and family our sympathies in their bereavement.

Matrimony is yet notable. Mr. John Keman and a Mrs. Holder, living over in the edge of Breckinridge county, were united in matrimony on last Thursday, he being 70 and she 67 years old. They were, of course, a flashing couple. And before Christmas passes we anticipate many more weddings. It is thought and supposed Mr. Joseph Petty will take to himself a better half before long, as the old adage is widowers don't go long before they are popping the question. QUACK.

Ben Wells, our efficient postmaster, who has been slightly indisposed for several days, has about recovered.

Several of our prominent farmers who have given Mr. Chure's Profit-Corn a fair trial, pronounce it a fraud. They say if the originator had only thought to put a "popper" in each ear it would have been a big bonanza for the makers of pop-corn balls. One stalk of the Profit-Corn would furnish husking for an entire neighborhood, but the turn-out of corn would be far from encouraging. Farmers should give Mr. Chure's Profit-Corn a wide berth.

DUNCAN'S Champion Cough Syrup FOR COUGHS, COLDS, BRONCHITIS, &c. PREPARED BY D. S. DUNCAN, Druggist, McHENRY, KY.

Read what the Physicians say about it I, W. J. Berry, have used and prescribed the Duncan Cough Syrup in several cases of bad colds, attended with difficult expectation and sore chest, and the results were almost immediate relief. I therefore recommend it as a good remedy in difficulty of breathing, difficult colds, coughs, and ALL bronchial troubles.

W. J. BERRY, M. D.

P. S.—I have used it in my own case and found immediate relief.

I have prescribed D. S. Duncan's Champion Cough Syrup in various stages of colds, coughs, bronchial and pectoral complaints, and find it to give universal satisfaction.

V. M. TAYLOR, M. D.

I have examined D. S. Duncan's Champion Cough Syrup, and it is different from any I have seen. But knowing the ingredients from which it is compounded, I believe it to be a good syrup. Respectfully, JNO. E. PENDLETON, M. D.

TESTIMONIALS.

McHENRY, KENTUCKY. While suffering with a very bad cold, and so hoarse I could scarcely speak, I purchased a bottle of D. S. Duncan's Champion Cough Syrup, and after using it a day or two I was entirely relieved, both of my cough and hoarseness. Knowing it to be superior to any I ever used, I advise those who need a cough syrup to buy it in preference to any other.

W. H. BURTON.

ROCKPORT, KENTUCKY. After suffering for some time with a severe cold last winter, D. S. Duncan gave me a bottle of his Champion Cough Syrup, requesting me to give it a trial. I used about one-half of it, and was completely cured. I presented the remainder to Prof. W. G. Nunneley, of Rockport, Ky., who was cured of a severe attack of cold and hoarseness by its use. As it is pleasant to take, any child will take it without the least trouble, I would recommend it as the best cough preparation I ever used.

JAS. TINSLEY.

I endorse the statement made by Mr. Tinsley, and am confident that D. S. Duncan's Cough Syrup will give universal satisfaction. W. G. NUNNELLY.

I tried some of D. S. Duncan's Cough Syrup last winter, and I believe it is the best I ever used. It has no bad or disagreeable taste, and it causes almost instant relief. Knowing the merits of it from using it myself, I submit these facts that others may be benefited also. Respectfully, JAS. D. BYERS.

HAMILTON, KENTUCKY. I am subject to severe attacks of sore throat, attended with difficult coughing and hoarseness. On the 12th inst., while suffering with one of these attacks, I purchased a bottle of D. S. Duncan's Champion Cough Syrup, and in a day or two I was greatly relieved.

S. S. STAHL.

Sometime ago I was taken with a very bad cold and sore throat. I purchased one bottle of D. S. Duncan's Champion Cough Syrup, and, to my astonishment, it gave me relief almost instantly. It did not only give relief, but performed a permanent cure before I had taken half the bottle full. This is the best medicine I ever used, and will say to those who are troubled with sore throat or any bronchial disease will do well to procure one bottle of this valuable Cough Syrup, and give it a fair trial.

Price Forty Cents. Sample Bottles, Twenty-Five Cents.

Messrs. THOMAS & KIMBLEY are Agents for the Champion Cough Syrup at Hartford, Ky. Call and see them.

Mr. BROWN, Druggist at Paradise, Ky., will supply the people of that fair land with D. S. Duncan's Champion Syrup.

Mr. THOS. REID, Druggist, will furnish to the inhabitants of Rockport and neighborhood the never-failing remedy for colds. Call and try it. Ask for the Champion Syrup.

This Syrup will be kept constantly on hand at the McHenry Coal Co.'s Drug Store, McHenry, Ky.

My Syrup is compounded of ingredients which are tonic and stimulating, thereby facilitating digestion and preventing constipation. Satisfaction guaranteed if used as directed. Ask your Druggist for it. Respectfully, D. S. DUNCAN, Druggist, With McHenry Coal Co., McHenry, Ohio County, Ky.

Misses Lizzie Walker and Mary Rowe, of this place, are visiting the family of Mr. Mansfield Rowe, of Greenville.

Our friend Wm. Wand, one of the able young lawyers of Morgantown, was attending Circuit Court here during the week.

Mr. J. W. Roach, the popular commercial tourist of the hat firm of T. Roach & Barbour, of Evansville, was in town several days last week.

Miss Jennie Barnett, of Beda, and Mr. Sam Asher, of Masonville, Daviess county, are the guests of Miss Sadie Jones, of Centertown, this week.

Mr. W. C. Chapman went to Cecilian, Hardin county, Ky., last Wednesday and returned Saturday. He reports business lively there and stock selling at good prices.

W. H. Owen and wife, of Owensboro, came up last Sunday and returned Monday. The illness of Mrs. M. A. Thomas, mother of Mrs. Owen, caused the hurried visit.

Our young friend, C. J. Yager, Esq., of the Muhlenberg Echo, Greenville, Ky., came over Saturday evening and returned Monday morning. He reports times pretty lively in Greenville.

James A. Carter has moved his family to town and will occupy the new building near Masonic hall, belonging to Mr. Lou Hill. Mr. Carter will soon begin the erection of his new lively stable.

Our friend and former countyman, I. H. Axton, Esq., of Owensboro, was in town last week. The many friends and acquaintances of his family will regret to learn that they have moved to Owensboro.

Mrs. M. A. Thomas was taken suddenly sick last Wednesday with something like rheumatism and paralysis, and has been quite feeble ever since with but little, if any, change for the better up to this writing.

Mr. Zita O. King, a former resident of this county, now of Louisville, has been here the past week in the interests of the Louisville Commercial. He is a live newspaper man and seems to have been intended by nature for that sphere.

We had the pleasure of a call last week from Miss Laura Carson and Miss Virginia Mary Ambrose. We always appreciate calls from young ladies, but on this occasion we felt highly complimented in having a call from the Virgin Mary.

COLLEGE NOTES.

The students are studying better now than at any time since the school opened.

Miss Laura Chapize received the highest standing in the Intermediate Department the last month.

A much larger per cent. of the students will reach the honor roll this month than at any preceding month.

Lizzie Moore, Vannie Barrett, Mamie Morris, Mary Renter, Laura Chapize, Henry Williams, Lonnie Renter and Owen Thomas received badges of honor from their teacher, Miss Hendrick.

The Claytonians met in College Hall last Friday night and had an interesting meeting. After a number of good essays, declamations and select readings they proceeded to the debate, the subject of which was, "Resolved, that the love of money yields a greater influence over man than the love of woman." Champion for affirmative—J. W. Bishop; negative—J. B. Ferguson. Hon. S. E. Hill also spoke for the affirmative, and Hon. W. D. Coleman for negative, and although Mr. Coleman made a very eloquent appeal for the ladies, Messrs. E. G. Hunley, W. H. Fulkerson and T. R. Wood, judges, decided for affirmative. Mr. Coleman said he was so much in favor of women that should his wife die he would marry again, although she is his second. The Society now has about 35 or 40 members, and is steadily increasing.

ROLL OF HONOR.

W. ALEXANDER, Principal.

—The poem "Why Should We Dread the Future," by Cicero Sutton, published in this issue, is a well written reading. Mr. Sutton is a gifted young man, as all his productions attest. He has a bright future before him, and nothing but his innate modesty will prevent his acquiring great fame as a literary writer and poet. We are glad to note that he has a position in the HERALD office now, and that the readers of our paper may be often treated to the rich gems of thought and poetic fancy that emanate from his intellectual storehouse.

JOHN CHINN, Beaver Dam.

—Our friend, J. D. Crow, of this county, is now a student at the university at Ann Arbor, Mich. From a letter from him we learn there are 1,500 in that school at this time. Mr. Crow will no doubt attain a very fine education before he quits, as he is uniting in his efforts in that way.

—The display of stylish garments for men and boys will enable all interested in male attire to select the choice production of this season at low prices in the men's department, the boys' department, the overcoat department, the merchant tailor department of J. Winter & Co., corner of Third and Market streets, Louisville. We know of no better place to trade than theirs.

—We can recommend the New York Observer to our readers as a family paper that is full of good and useful reading. It has both religious and secular news, and a foreign correspondence which is entertaining and valuable. Any one can get a sample copy by sending to the New York Observer, 37 Park Row, New York.

—N. H. Ford is the boss timber man in Ohio County this year. He is getting out staves on the land on Rough Creek just opposite Hine's Mill. He has and will get at least 500,000 staves. He made up one tree that turned out 3,325 whisky barrel staves. The tree was four feet in diameter at the stump, and yielded 25 cuts, the top cut being three feet in diameter. N. A. Bradley is superintending the work. They will get out about four boat loads in all. The timber is for Hugh Stafford, of Louisville. It will be floated down Rough Creek and Green River and then towed up the Ohio River to its destination. The timber is being worked up on a tract of land belonging to E. D. Walker and N. H. Ford.

—Last Thursday was a day of Thanksgiving and feasting—especially the latter. We dined, by invitation, at the hospitable residence of Judge R. S. Moseley. Here we met the genial faces of Misses Lizzie Morton, Grace Thompson, Mamie Anderson, Kate and Annie Hardwick, Lizzie Box, Kate Hendrick and Miss Maggie, daughter of our host and hostess. Among the other guests were Judge L. P. Little, of Owensboro, J. W. Roach, of Evansville, and J. T. Coffman, of this place. The dinner consisted of everything that one well-skilled in the culinary art could suggest or the epicure could desire. The afternoon was passed in mirth, music and witicism. Miss Lizzie Morton occupied the position of genius loci—presiding with grace and dignity. We tender thanks to Judge and Mrs. Moseley for a remembrance on this occasion and for an evening of unalloyed pleasure.

—The hop given by Profs. Ludwig and McGill at Masonic Hall last Thursday night, was an enjoyable affair. Although there were not as many participants as on former occasions, yet those attending seemed to enjoy themselves to the fullest extent.

—Mr. Anderson, of No Creek, brought us a specimen of White Burley tobacco raised by him this year. It is a nice, soft, silky tobacco and has an excellent odor. No doubt but it is the most profitable tobacco for our farmers to grow if they cultivate the weed at all.

—The boys about here have quit fox-chasing, but on Monday last a lot of the boys, mostly officials about the court house had a lively Crow chase and captured two of the birds. Crows are cunning birds and getting a sly chance they flew away but were recaptured.

—The year is drawing to a close and we are anxious to draw all our accounts of every kind to a close. All persons indebted to us are hereby notified that we need and must have the money. If not promptly paid by the end of the year, we will take steps to enforce payment. We cannot run a paper without money.

—Thanksgiving Day was pretty generally observed here last Thursday. Circuit Court, now in session, adjourned, Hartford College dismissed and a large number of the citizens and visitors attended divine services at the M. E. church, conducted by Rev. J. S. McDaniel. Bro. McDaniel's remarks on the occasion are spoken of as being very appropriate and in good taste.

—The New York Observer is an interesting and valuable family paper. We can recommend it to our readers who wish to take a New York paper as pure and safe. The publishers have this year issued a volume of Irenaeus letters, with a fine portrait of the author, which they offer to old subscribers. Anyone can get the terms by sending to New York Observer, New York.

—The McHenry Coal Company have purchased one-half interest in the Rockport coal mines and take immediate control and are going to put considerable improvements on the mines and make them first-class. The McHenry Coal Company also intend to open a new mine on the opposite side of the railroad at McHenry, which is the finest coal found on the railroad.

—There are a great many mean men in the world, but the meanest are those who will subscribe for a paper on credit and promise to pay soon and fail to do it, and just about the time they conclude the paper will be stopped unless paid for, write and order it discontinued, and say it is not wanted longer, and say not a word about paying for the time it has been taken. We have been served with this way a few times and intend to publish a black list of all such in the first issue in 1881, and leave it standing until all the amounts due are paid.

—Mr. W. C. Morton, one of our citizens and a staunch Republican, has been appointed as gauger of whiskey and assigned to duty at or near Owensboro. He left yesterday for his field of labor. His family still remain here. We are glad to see "Buck," as he is usually called, get the appointment. As a Republican he is to have it as we are well satisfied with his appointment as we would be with any. He makes a good officer.

—In appreciation of being one among the number of friends and relatives present on the 23d Nov., at Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Thomas' fifth marriage anniversary, we will say, that the evening was an enjoyable one, and that Mrs. Thomas' supper was just splendid. She had a variety of delicious meats, including turkey, ham, salids, sardines, with pickles, jellies, chases, crackers, delightful bread, butter, coffee, tea, sherbet, ice cream, pine apples, exquisitely trimmed cakes, stands of nuts, candies, wines, dispensed in artistic taste with the epergne in the center, with large dish of tempting fruits, and trailing in graceful clusters were a variety of luscious grapes. Under the delightful influence of a good supper the evening soon passed. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas have two little children that are a well-spring of joy to their young hearts. James has fine dark eyes and is quite a handsome boy, while little Juliet is a real blonde and was the cynosure of all eyes. As I said good night to my host and hostess in the hall of their cosy, hospitable little home and turned to leave I breathed a heart-felt wish for their success in future, and may they live to enjoy their golden wedding.

—Just twenty-five days until Christmas day.

—The Knight of the red neck-tie still prospers.

—Dress-making a specialty and satisfaction guaranteed by Mrs. R. J. MORRIS.

—Mr. Clarence Hardwick, our accommodating Circuit Clerk, had the docket published preceding court, and had it also printed in tablet form for the convenience of the attorneys. Mr. Hardwick is making an excellent clerk.

—G. J. Bean & Son have purchased the "Handy Corner Grocery" and they will keep all kinds of family supplies and will sell for cash or country produce.

—Misses Paulie Hubbard, Verdie Duke and Laura Renter—three of the four students who scored ten in last month's report at the Idg college—buy all their shoes at Anderson's Bazaar. The other little girl—Maudie Anderson—begs all her nickles at the same place.

—The Stockholders of the Ohio County Fair Company will hold a meeting next Saturday at 1 o'clock in the County clerk's office for the election of officers for the ensuing year and transact such other business as may be brought before the meeting.

—The wife of Mr. Manker, a blacksmith living in the Crane Pond neighborhood, this county, gave birth a few days since, to triplets, aggregate weight 12 1/2 pounds. The children are living and doing well and the father is happy. Mr. Manker lived in this place a short time about two years ago.

—Messrs. Oscar Stevens & Co. have bought out John Fowler, merchant, at Beaver Dam, and will remove the stock of goods to the store house of I. P. Barnard, where they will hereafter conduct a general retail store. We understand that they propose to sell at a very small profit and exclusively for cash.

—G. J. Bean & Son, have sold their blacksmith shop and appurtenances to Mr. Daniel F. Tracy, and purchased the grocery store of F. M. Heverin & Son. Mr. Heverin has purchased the famous portable saw mill of Dr. S. A. Jackson, and will start the same in a short time.

—Dr. Coleman has been for several weeks engaged in a series of meetings with Walnut street Baptist church, Owensboro, Ky., of which he is pastor. There had been 48 additions up to the 25th inst., with good prospects for still other accessions in the near future. Dr. Coleman will fill his regular appointment at Buford the first Saturday and Sunday in December.

—The firm of Oscar Stevens & Co., composed of Oscar Stevens and I. P. Barnard, hereby proclaim to the public that they have bought out the entire stock of John Fowler, at Beaver Dam, and will this week open up a new store in the I. P. Barnard store house, where a full line of general merchandise will be kept. They propose to buy for cash and sell the same way, thus enabling them to sell at a very small profit. They will not sell on credit to any one.

An Assault, Arrest, Escape, Foot Race and Riot.

Henry and Elijah Crow, living near Hine's Mill, came to town Monday to answer an indictment for shooting with intent to kill. While in town they got on a spree and attacked Mr. W. C. Morton, who is a peaceable citizen, and who was not even acquainted with them. Parties interfered and kept them at bay until an officer could come to the rescue. Mr. G. W. Binger, Deputy Sheriff, who is always on the lookout for just such outlaws, was promptly on hand and arrested them, which had to be done by force.

Mr. Binger took a drawn pistol out of the hands of one of them, and, summoning help, took them before Judge Newton. They resisted arrest with all their power, and it took eight or ten men to take them to the Court house. The officers and assistants had hardly gotten them to the Court house before they both ran—one going out at the East and the other at the West end of the Court house. The officers shouted to the crowd along the streets to catch them, but one of them still having his "little pistol," no one would take hold. Mr. Phillips, Sheriff, pursued them to the bridge, but when one of them presented the business end of his pistol, Mr. Phillips came back. Mr. Binger summoned men and started on horseback after them, and recaptured them on the levee and brought them back. They were again taken before Judge Newton who remanded them to jail.

The Grand Jury, which is in session, will, no doubt, indict them for carrying concealed weapons, and if so, their chances to board at hotel de Sultenger this winter will be pretty good.

Live Stock Market.

Reported by C. R. Gregory & Co., live stock merchants, Bourbon stock yard.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 29, 1880.

Cattle—Receipts light and but few needed. Common, thin cows and heifers hardly pay the expenses of shipping while fair to good butcher stuff sell readily at fair prices. Good stock steers keep in good demand and sell readily on arrival. Good shipping cattle active at quotations.

Hogs—Receipts for the past week have been heavy—more than could be slaughtered by the six houses that have been in active operation every day, and we have to report a decline in hogs at from 10 to 25 cents per hundred pounds, but we feel that when the glut gets over—which will be in a day or two—the prices will be higher.

A chapter on Losses and "Bills" Lost Again.

We understand our old friend, H. D. Taylor, has lost his Shepherd dog, "Billy," and having lost his eyesight Mr. Taylor has thereby lost the use of his pen; by reason of which our readers have lost another laugh at the advertisement he would have written. We therefore hope our readers who have not lost all sense of human kindness will give Mr. Taylor such information as they may possess concerning the wayward canine.

Frank W. Ford

Died at the residence of his father two miles southeast of Fordsville, Ohio county, Ky., Nov. 21, 1880, of typhoid fever, Frank Woodford, son of Harvey T. and Nancy Ford, aged 15 years, 9 months and 21 days. On the morning of the 23rd the funeral sermon was preached at his home by the Rev. Chas. B. Phillips. After service his remains, followed by a large funeral train, were taken to the graveyard on the farm of John Miles and interred with other members of the family. Frank, as he was called, joined the Baptist church at Mt. Pleasant, Ohio county, during a protracted meeting in the fall of 1877, and was a strict member of the church, and just before he died he requested his church subscription to be paid. Deceased was a cousin of James W. Ford, of Hartford.

Court Notes.

Samuel C. Crawford was tried on Tuesday of last week for carrying concealed a pistol, and was fined $25 and ten days imprisonment. He gave a supercedas bond, and will carry the case to the Court of Appeals.

The case of Commonwealth vs. W. T. King for assaulting J. F. Yager, was taken up Tuesday evening and a verdict rendered Saturday morning finding Mr. King $10.

P. P. Hancock was tried Monday and was fined $50 for giving liquor to a minor.

The criminal cases, where not disposed of, have been set forward on the docket as follows: The cases originally docketed for the fifth day are now set for the fifteenth day. All the business set for the sixth day has been continued until the next term.

The civil or common law docket has been set forward as follows: Cases for the 11th day are now set for the 16th day; cases set for the 12th day are now set for the 17th day; the 13th and 14th days' business go over to the 18th day; 15th and 16th days go over to the 19th day; 17th and 18th days are now set for the 20th day. All civil cases will be called on the day for which they were originally set, and if no defense is made by that time judgment will be rendered, but if defense is made by then, the trial of the case will go over to the day of the term as indicated in this local.

The case of James A. Thomas, et al., vs. A. L. Morton, et al., was submitted on demurrer to plaintiff's petition, and the demurrer sustained and the petition dismissed without prejudice. This is the suit of some citizens of Hartford enjoining the school tax. One by one the barriers to the complete success of our school are removed.

George Will Bennett was tried Monday and fined $25 and ten days in jail for carrying a pistol concealed.

Wanted.

Every customer who is owing me by note or account to call and settle same in the next 30 days and save costs. 48-2t J. W. FORD.

Our Jurymen Getting $5.00 a Day:

It is not generally known that the Jurymen of the present session of our Circuit Court are making $5.00 a day. They draw from the jury fund $1.50 per day and make $3.50 per day by laying in their family supplies at Anderson's Bazaar.

They Settled Up Fairly and Promptly.

For several years I have procured all my fire insurance through Barrett & Bro., agents at Hartford, Ky. In September last my storehouse and contents were entirely destroyed by fire. The loss was speedily and liberally adjusted and promptly paid. A part of it, in fact, paid before the time specified in policy. I cheerfully recommend Messrs. Barrett & Bro. as reliable, efficient agents, and the companies they represent as first-class. Respectfully,

I. P. BARNARD, Beaver Dam, Ky.
